1. Introduction

- 1.1. Lady Jane Grey is a mainstream primary school in Leicestershire. As a mainstream school, we have a commitment to inclusive practice, so that all children can be happy, flourish and feel safe. We make sure that all pupils' individual needs are met. We support all pupils, including those with SEND, to aim high and achieve their full potential. We endeavour to promote self-esteem, independence, resilience and self-motivation. We aim to assist pupils in becoming independent, confident people and life-long learners who can make a positive contribution to our community.
- 1.2. We work closely with pupils, their families and other support services to provide the best possible learning experience for all our pupils.

2. Legislation and guidance

- 2.1. This policy and information report is based on the statutory Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Code of Practice and the following legislation:
 - a) Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014, which sets out schools' responsibilities for pupils with SEND and disabilities.
 - b) The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, which set out schools' responsibilities for education, health and care (EHC) plans, SEND coordinators (SENDCos) and the SEND information report.
 - c) This policy also complies with our funding agreement and articles of association.

3. Inclusion and equal opportunities

- 3.1. At Lady Jane Grey Academy, we strive to create an inclusive teaching environment that offers all pupils, no matter their needs and abilities, a broad, balanced and challenging curriculum. We are committed to offering all pupils the chance to thrive and fulfil their aspirations.
- 3.2. We will achieve this by making reasonable adjustments to teaching and the curriculum to make sure that pupils with SEND are included in all aspects of school life.

4. Definition of SEND

- 4.1. A pupil has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them.
- 4.2. They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:
 - a) A significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of the others of the same age, or
 - b) A disability that prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools.
 - c) Special educational provision is an educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

4.3. The four areas of need:

Area of Need
Communication and interaction	Pupils with needs in this area have difficulty communicating with others. They may have difficulty understanding what is being said to them, have trouble expressing themselves, or do not understand or use the social rules of communication. Pupils who are on the autism spectrum often have needs that fall in this category.
Cognition and learning	Pupils with learning difficulties usually learn at a slower pace than their peers. A wide range of needs are grouped in this area, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Specific learning difficulties, which impact 1 or more specific aspects of learning, such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia• Moderate learning difficulties• Severe learning difficulties• Profound and multiple learning difficulties, where pupils are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment.
Social, emotional and mental health	These needs may reflect a wide range of underlying difficulties or disorders. Pupils may have: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Mental health difficulties such as anxiety, depression or an eating disorder• Attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder• Suffered adverse childhood experiences. These needs can manifest in many ways, for example, as challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour, or by the pupil becoming withdrawn or isolated.
Sensory and/or physical	Pupils with these needs have a disability that hinders them from accessing the educational facilities generally provided. Pupils may have: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• A sensory impairment such as vision impairment, hearing impairment or multi-sensory impairment• A physical impairment These pupils may need ongoing additional support and equipment to access all the opportunities available to their peers

Appendix 1: SEND Information Report

What kind of special educational needs are catered for in your school?	At Lady Jane Grey Academy, we take pride in being an inclusive mainstream school that caters to a wide range of SEN across the four areas of need as defined in the SEND Code of Practice (2015). These four areas are: communication and interaction needs, cognition and learning needs, social emotional and mental health needs and sensory and physical needs. We embrace a holistic approach to education, developing an environment where all children, regardless of their specific needs, can thrive academically, socially and emotionally. We work collaboratively with children, parents and external specialists to create individualised support plans that address each child's unique requirements.
Which policies identify children and young people with SEND?	We identify children with SEND through our adherence to the definition of SEN provided in the SEN Code of Practice. A pupil has SEND where their learning difficulty or disability requires special educational provision to be made for them. Provision must be different from or additional to that normally available to pupils of the same age. A pupil has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others the same age, or has a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools. For some children, SEND can be identified at an early age. However, for other children and young people, difficulties become evident only as they develop. When it becomes evident that first-quality teaching alone is insufficient to meet a child's requirements, and class interventions are unsuccessful, we make the decision to place them on the SEN Register. It's important to note that this register is consistently updated to ensure that each child's needs are accurately reflected and addressed.
How are their needs assessed?	At Lady Jane Grey Academy, assessing a child's needs, especially those with SEND, typically involves a multi-stage process, called the graduated response, to identify and address their specific requirements. Children are regularly assessed in the classroom, and academic attainment is tracked using teacher assessment. Any needs are reviewed by the class teacher with the SENDCo.

Who is the school's SENDCo?	Rachel Burrows. Contact information: 0116 232 0031 office@ljg.academy
What expertise and training do your staff have? How do you secure additional specialist expertise?	Lady Jane Grey has SEND support from ELSA/Mental Health Lead. ELSA/Mental Health Lead has also had bereavement training and can provide support when necessary. Both ELSA/Mental Health Lead and SENDCo liaise weekly to ensure that children's mental health issues are dealt with quickly and appropriately. Teachers are able to refer children to ELSA/Mental Health Lead directly through the internal use of CPOMS (Child Protection Online Management System). Parents that have mental health concerns for their child, should approach the class teacher in the first instance. We prioritise ensuring that our staff have the expertise and training necessary to effectively support children with special educational needs. Some of the training our staff possess are: qualified teachers, SENDCo, continuous professional development (CPD), inclusive teaching strategies, specific SEN training, individualised support plans, collaboration and teamwork, safeguarding training, awareness and empathy. We believe in ongoing development and learning to meet the evolving needs of our children and ensure they receive the best possible education. Lady Jane Grey Academy already works closely with a range of external agencies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Speech & Language Therapy Service - Educational Psychology Service - The Hearing-Impaired Service - The Visual Impaired Service - The Autism Outreach Team - The Outreach Support Team at Dorothy Goodman - Ashmount and Forest Way Special Schools - Oakfield Outreach
What should I do if I think my child has SEN?	If you suspect that your child may have SEN, it's important to take proactive steps to ensure they receive the support they may require. The first step is to contact your child's class teacher - or the SENDCo - to share your observations and any specific challenges or behaviours you have noticed in your child's learning or development. Remember that early intervention and open communication with us are essential in ensuring that your child's SEN are identified and addressed appropriately. Your active involvement and collaboration with educators will greatly contribute to your child's success in their educational journey.

How will the academy know if my child needs SEN support?	We have a well-defined process to identify if a child needs SEN Support. We follow a graduated response approach, which involves several steps to identify, plan, implement and evaluate support for children.
How are their needs assessed?
How do you assess and review children and young people's progress towards outcomes?	Children's academic outcomes are assessed by the class teacher and are monitored by the SENDCo. Children have individual targets, and these are reviewed regularly. If children achieve them, a new target is set based on their area of need. Parents can attend SEN reviews three times a year (once a term), where they can meet with their child's class teacher and discuss how their child is progressing. They also receive a copy of the pupil's targets.
What opportunities are there to work with parents and pupils as part of this assessment and review?
How do you consult with parents of children with SEND and involve them in their child's education?	Consulting with parents of children with SEND and involving them in their child's education is a fundamental aspect of our SEN policy at our school. We recognise the importance of collaboration between parents and the school to ensure the best possible outcomes for children with SEND.
How do you consult with children and young people and ensure they are actively involved in their education?	If you have concerns regarding your child's development or academic progress, then please initially speak to your child's class teacher. If necessary, they will then discuss your concerns with our SENDCo. Where a pupil's needs are persistent, the class teacher will complete an initial concerns checklist and arrange to meet with the SENDCo. Parents will be invited to attend this meeting and share their perspective. Where appropriate, the child's views will be sought. If a different and additional provision is required to meet the child's needs, the child will then be placed on the school SEND record as 'SEN Support'. Once a child has been identified as having Special Educational Needs, the child and their families are supported in the following ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - SEND Support - Top Up Funding - Education and Health Care Plan (EHCP)
How will the academy adapt its teaching for my child?	Our school customises teaching approaches for pupils with SEND by creating IEPs and using an adapted curriculum, as needed. We provide speech, language and occupational therapy support, prioritise social and emotional wellbeing, and encourage peer

Regular monitoring and feedback, collaborating among staff, and ongoing adaptation of support plans ensure a tailored and inclusive learning environment for children with SEND. Our school offers a variety of interventions to support children with SEND. These interventions are personalised to include IEPs, an adapted curriculum, small group sessions, one-on-one tutoring, speech and language therapy, occupational therapy and much more. We prioritise regular progress monitoring, professional collaboration and parental engagement to ensure that each child's unique needs are met effectively.
How are adaptations made to the curriculum and the learning environment of children and young people with SEND?	At Lady Jane Grey Academy, all teachers are teachers of children with Special Educational Needs. There are regular sessions of staff training which focus on a range of areas of need to develop staff understanding and provide them with skills, strategies and resources, human and material, to meet the needs of pupils in their class. Planning demonstrates adaptations to meet the learning needs of all pupils. Pupils have opportunities to work as part of a class, in small groups, in pairs and individually. These grouping may be ability grouped or mixed ability encouraging pupils to support each other. Teachers provide learning opportunities for all children within this environment and provide resources appropriate to pupils' interests and abilities. The systems in place are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Classroom support to increase curriculum access and pupil achievement. - Adapted provision - Intervention programmes - Well adapted curriculum planning which incorporates a variety of learning styles to deliver the curriculum Clear guidelines on behaviour with a structured reward and reflection system.
How do you evaluate the effectiveness of the provision made for children and young people with SEND?	We evaluate the effectiveness of our provision for children with SEND through a comprehensive process. This includes regular review meetings, assessment data analysis, feedback from parents and pupils, observations, monitoring and specialist input. We also consider the alignment of goals, the whole-school approach, and ensure compliance with legal requirements. IEPs are reviewed at least once a term and provision for pupils is reviewed between the class

	teacher and SENDCo. Parents will have termly reviews to discuss provision, what is working well and what is not. We follow the assess, plan, do, review cycle of the graduated approach to ensure that all children with SEND receive the most effective provision
How will the school resources be secured for my child?	At our school, we ensure that necessary resources are secured for children with SEN. We conduct needs assessments, develop IEPs, allocate resources accordingly, invest in staff training, provide adapted materials and collaborate with external specialists and agencies, when needed. We also involve parents in the process. For those with more complex needs, Top Up Funding will be applied for.
How do you support children and young people who move between phases of education and prepare them for adulthood?	Each year, staff take part in transition meetings to discuss all pupils in their class, including those with SEN. This allows staff to fully understand the needs of new pupils. All children take part in transition days where they meet their new class and teacher. Some children may require extra support, which is provided in a variety of ways, depending on what is best for the child. This may include additional visits to the new classroom, additional meetings with their new teacher, or transition books to prepare them. Children transitioning to LJG: Children who are transferring from other early years settings are welcome to visit us at any time with their current setting or parents. The Foundation teachers run several parent workshops in which they talk about the curriculum and routines. Parents and early years' providers are asked to provide details about the pupil's progress, interests, and any Special Educational Need or Disability. Where there has been involvement with the Early Years team, a transition meeting is planned with the parents, teacher and SENDCo prior to starting school. In addition, staff visit all new starters to the school in the autumn term before admission in to school. Children transitioning from LJG: We will share information with the school, or other setting the pupil is moving to. We will agree with parents and pupils on which information will be shared as part of this.

	We have very close links with our feeder setting, Brookvale Groby Learning Campus, to ensure that pupils with SEND are known to us at transfer and known to schools to which they will later transfer. The SENDCo from Brookvale Groby Learning Campus (or other named school) is invited to the Annual Review of a child with a Statement/EHCP, in the Autumn Term, which precedes transfer (Year 6). In the term before transfer, the Brookvale Groby Learning Campus SENDCo meets with the Year 6 teachers, Year 6 children with SEND and the Lady Jane Grey SENDCo to discuss and prepare for transition. In addition, pupils with SEND have bespoke visits to their new setting to help them prepare for transition, and to help them familiarise themselves with the new environments and connect with key adults.
How are children and young people with SEND enabled to engage in wider curriculum and extra-curricular activities?	All of our extra-curricular activities and school visits are available to all our pupils, including our before- and after-school clubs. All pupils are encouraged to go on our residential trip(s), which occur in Year 4 and Year 6. We work with the providers of the residential trips to ensure that any specific needs of individual children are met. Previously, this has included; specific accommodation type and daily support medical meetings Lady Jane Grey leaders are represented in the staffing structure of all residential trips. All pupils are encouraged to take part in sports day/school plays/special workshops, etc. Reasonable adjustments to activities ensure that every child has an enjoyable experience and participates fully. No pupil is ever excluded from taking part in these activities because of their SEN or disability. Participation in specialist external sporting activities such as Boccia is actively encouraged and supported by staff.
How do you support the well-being of children and young people?	Pupils with SEND are given the same access to roles and responsibilities as any other child to encourage them to be confident and develop self-esteem.

	Pupils are represented well, proportionately in after-school activities and clubs, with inclusion at the forefront of our future plans. Risk assessments are completed by staff before any educational visits, and where appropriate, parents are invited to participate. Learning Support Staff provide extra support for pupils with a high level of need at playtime/lunchtime. The school is built on one level. The main school building can offer wheelchair access to the main entrance. The main school building has a disabled toilet and a changing bed. Four classrooms in the main building have been modified and are now acoustically suitable for children with a hearing impairment. Both the SENDCo and teaching staff meet with the Specialist Teacher for Hearing Impaired Children to discuss targets and attainment. At the end of each academic year, we take advice from both the hearing and visual impairment services as to which classrooms would be most suitable for individual children for the following academic year, according to their needs. For children with higher level needs we carry out a yearly risk assessment on the classrooms to make sure they meet that child's needs e.g. doors or high handles on classrooms where children may be a 'flight risk' In accordance with the Equality Act 2010 the school has an 'Accessibility Plan' which shows how the school plans to improve access progressively over time and a policy for 'Supporting Pupils at School with Medical Conditions' including the administration of medication. Where equipment and facilities are additional to or different from those already provided, the SENDCo would contact the relevant health agencies, e.g., the Occupational Therapist, to ensure the appropriate equipment to support the pupils' learning in school is available.
How does the school involve other bodies, including health and social care bodies, local authority support services and voluntary sector organisations, in meeting children and young people's SEND and supporting	The school collaborates with external bodies, including health and social care, local authority support services and organisations to meet the needs of children with SEND and support their families. This collaboration involves regular meetings, joint planning, referrals, sharing information and training.

their families?	This ensures a coordinated and holistic approach to addressing the diverse needs of pupils with SEND, with a strong emphasis on involving families and accessing additional resources when necessary.
What support is in place for looked-after and previously looked-after children with SEN?	The school has a Designated Teacher for Looked After Children (LAC). Those who are looked-after and previously looked-after with SEN receive tailored support to meet their individual needs. The school works closely with carers and external agencies to ensure that these pupils have access to IEPs, emotional and well-being support, and any necessary interventions. Regular reviews and multi-agency collaboration help ensure that the support remains relevant and effective. Please see the school's Safeguarding & Child Protection Policy
What should I do if I have a complaint about my child's SEN support?	Parents are encouraged to discuss any problems or concerns with the school. These should be raised initially with the pupil's Class Teacher or SENDCo. If following this, a parent feels this has not addressed their concerns, please follow the school's Concerns & Complaints Policy, which can be found on the school's website, or a copy can be provided upon request from the school reception.
What support is available for families?	Lady Jane Grey Academy is committed to supporting parents and carers. Support includes: signposting to specialist external services, e.g. school nursing team – Hinckley Health Centre, and support from the SENDCo regarding health referrals to Leicestershire NHS Partnership Trust. The school also works with the following services: Educational Psychology, Speech and Language Therapy, Visually Impaired and Hearing-Impaired teams, Physiotherapy and the Autism Outreach Team. For further information on any of the above, please contact the school's SENDCo. In addition, the school works closely with Social Services and 'Early Help' organisation, which can provide family support when needed. Please refer to the school's Safeguarding & Child Protection Policy. The school is aligned with Leicestershire's Local Offer for SEND.
